The event thus confirms itself as a must-attend event for operators in the sector who, in a single event, will find the new collections for the coming winter season, within a context that is always dynamic, where they can compare and evaluate new business opportunities. This is thanks in part to the partial simultaneity with Micam, International Footwear Show, Mipel, International Show dedicated to leather goods and fashion accessories, and The One Milano, Salone dell'Haute à-Porter, to be held from 18-20 September, also at fieramilano.

Mimi Muà

Among the protagonists will be collections of high quality and stylistic value, including the collections by Noshi, with its line of jewellery inspired by Bauhaus modernism, which stand out as true geometries to be worn, and Valentina Laganà, an Italian designer who creates small series in metal or lost-wax casting, whose unique features make their jewellery pieces one of a kind. There will be MimiMuà, with its new fashion accessory and clothing collections, as well as Zag Bijoux, Unique Milano and Lebole Gioielli with a host of new and original items from the bijou universe, to name but a few of the brands present.

ALEX MAX

There will also be many novelties in "The incubator-Tuttepazzeperbijoux", the area curated by Maria Elena Capelli who, thanks to her constant and punctual scouting activity, proposes jewellery and bijoux that are unique, high quality pieces.

Naturally, space will also be given to the trends of tomorrow to provide all players in the sector with a scenario of what will be new in the coming years. Thanks to the well-established collaboration with Poli.Design in Milan, HOMI Fashion&Jewels Exhibition will be presenting FJ Visions of tomorrow in September, a new and evocative itinerary dedicated to the future visions of jewellery and fashion accessories.
